CASK ALE RANGE BUILDER

CASK ALE
Heroes

Below you will find our Cask Ale range builder. You can use this decision tree to work through the 3 key steps we have just run through on the previous page, guiding you to find your outlets optimum range for cask success and to enable you to grow your cask ale sales...

TOP 10 TIPS FOR KEEPING CASK ALE

Heroes

#1 ORDERING

Order the correct quantity of cask to allow you to sell each one within 3 days.

WHY?

As the beer is sold, air is drawn into the cask and if the cask is on sale for more than 3 days this will cause the flavour of the beer to deteriorate.

#2 STORAGE

Cask conditioned beer must be stored at a temperature of 11°C–13°C.

WHY?

If the beer is too warm it will over condition. If too cold, it will lack condition and may develop a haze. Cold temperatures reduce consumers sensitivity to flavour. Cask beers are designed by the brewers to be well balanced and flavourful between 11°C–13°C. Outside this temperature the beer might be perceived as unbalanced or even too thin.

#5 TAPPING

Tap the beer 12-24 hours before it is required to go on sale.

WHY?

There is less chance of disturbing the beer and allowing you to do a CATT test - Clarity, aroma, taste & temperature.

#6 SAMPLING

Use the brewery tasting notes to help you identify key flavour characteristics.

WHY?

If the beer isn't ready to sell, pulling through to the bar without checking will waste beer and your customers will notice.

#7 SERVING

Always replace the hard peg with a soft porous peg when dispensing beer from the cask and swap back at the end of each session.

WHY?

Removing the peg prevents a vacuum developing in the cask that could disturb the sediment. Pegging between sessions maintains the condition of the beer. If this is done the ale can be kept for longer. This is known as Secondary Fermentation.

#3 STILLAGING

Casks should be firmly stillaged on delivery. Standard cask beers should be left to condition and settle for 48–72 hours before serving.

fastcask™ casks can be tapped and sold immediately after stillaging.

WHY?

Standard cask beer contains yeast in suspension which takes 48–72 hours to settle to the bottom of the cask.

With fastcask™ the yeast is held in gel beads that drop to the bottom almost immediately allowing the beer to be sold straight away.

#4 VENTING

All casks should be vented with a soft porous peg for up to 72 hours after delivery to allow the beer to condition. Once this has finished, replace the soft peg with a hard, non-porous peg.

fastcask™ can either go on sale straight away or be conditioned 24 hours before serving. The gel beads have a semiporous coating that allows the yeast to condition the beer in the same way as standard cask.

WHY?

Venting and pegging will ensure that the correct amount of carbon dioxide develops in the beer and will maintain this level while the beer is on sale.

#8 TILTING

If the cask is stillaged horizontally, gently tilt it forward when it is between 1/2 and 2/3 full by gently lowering the front or raising the back, whichever is easiest. This will be done automatically if you are using a self tilting stillage.

WHY?

Tilting allows you to sell the maximum volume of beer from the cask. If using the vertical extraction method of dispense there will be no need to tilt the cask.

#9 CLEANING

Clean all beer lines and equipment every 7 days using the methods recommend by your cask supplier.

WHY?

The cleanliness of the dispense equipment is one of the most important factors in keeping top quality cask beer. Dirty lines can cause cloudy beer, fobbing and equipment malfunction.

Intro text: Beyond its early years as a key varietal in Bordeaux blends, Malbec has thrived as the darling red grape variety of the South Americas. The last decade has seen Malbec grow in popularity in both the on and off trade - +34% in volume vs the average over the last three years alone in the off trade and driving Argentinian wines to see the strongest recovery in volume and value, post COVID*. We've been working on our Malbec range the last couple of years, so World Malbec Day feels like as good an excuse as any to delve into a selection of our favourites...

Pedley's Picks

Every month Jonathan Pedley, Master of Wine, talks through a pair of wines that he has specially selected to be highlighted over the course of the year.

Domaine de la Baume 'Capucine' Vin Orange CHARDONNAY / SAUVIGNON BLANC 2021

At Crown Cellars we have been great fans of Domaine de la Baume down in Languedoc for a couple of decades so it makes sense to start our Orange Wine adventure there. The winemaking team destem the Chardonnay and Sauvignon Blanc grapes and leave them to macerate in a temperature controlled vat. Once the all important extraction of colour and tannin is complete, fermentation is allowed to proceed. During maturation the use of the preservative sulphur dioxide is kept to a minimum, allowing the distinctive colour to develop through subtle oxidation. The resulting wine has a deep gold colour. On the nose it is intense and broad. The dominant aromas are of ripe fruit: honeydew melon and candied peel in particular. On the palate it is mid-full bodied and dry, with a touch of astringency underpinning everything. The finish is long. The jury is still out about the temperature to serve Orange Wine: I would suggest cool but not over chilled (12°C). It is a similar story when it comes to food pairings. La Baume suggest hard cheeses and spicy dishes: I don't see why roast pork would not work as well

Gulara SHIRAZ, NV

Gulara Shiraz has been a stalwart of the Crown Cellars range for a decade or more. As you would expect for an Australian Shiraz, it has a good depth of ruby colour. On the nose it is juicy and youthful, with plenty of bramble fruit and a hint of pepper. The palate is mid-full bodied: the acidity is low and the tannins are smooth and rounded. It is good to drink on its own or pair it up with a meat pie or spaghetti bolognese.

DISTILLED

WORLD SPIRITS FROM
CARLSBERG MARSTON'S BREWING COMPANY

We are Distilled, and we're kind of into spirits. Sipping them, mixing them, reading about them, writing about them, talking about them and, well, you get the picture. Spirits are a funny category in the drinks industry; there's no other kind of drink that is so fiercely owned by bartenders. Not wine, not beer, not soft drinks. The fantastic thing is that this ownership is not individual - it's communal... bartenders love to support one another in their learning, share cocktail recipes and taste new or rare spirits together.

Distilled has grown from that culture of bartenders sharing and supporting each other. We are about more than this vaguely flashy ad in a magazine. We are about helping you create your offer, showing you new things, or maybe just being there to support you as you fine tune something that's already doing the trick.

We're constantly working on tools to make this happen...

ALT SPRITZ

The spritz serve has been around for a while now, with Aperol dominating for a few years in the UK. The 3-2-1 recipe is easy enough to master: 3 parts Prosecco (we love Ponte for this), 2 parts Aperol and 1 part soda, wine glass, ice, slice of orange.

Consumers have, however, started falling for all things spritz in a big way: The last year has seen spritz serves hit the 7th most popular cocktail in the UK*, and growing only behind the flavoured Martini in popularity.

With the weather starting to change, it's time to make the most of this breezy, simple, GP-friendly serve by looking beyond the iconic orange stuff and spritzing other sunshine-friendly bottles in your armory. We've put a few together to get you started...
